Additional, Desjardins only played two other tie games for Chicago this year (11/17 and 1/26) and won the distance in both - and the Chicago Tribune clearly lists both the time of the replacement (42:52) and the score of the game (4-2 St. Louis). Therefore, Esposito should get this tie - not Desjardins. But that gives Desjardins only two ties (and Esposito seven, not six). Is there any evidence to support the NHL statistics?

When and why did Parent leave with his collarbone injury? Sources I have suggest (including the Playground Daily News and The Bridgeport Post) that it was early in the third period (Tremblay has 40:21, for instance). If that's the case, then the Flyers had a 3-2 lead at the time, and the game ended 4-4 (so Taylor should get the tie). This would give Taylor one extra tie (compared with the NHL) and Parent one too few. When did Taylor enter the game? Shots/saves? Toronto Star specifically says that Parent left with a 3-2 lead.

8283 | 12/23/1982 | VAN | CGY | Richard Brodeur | Ken Ellicott | x | x | x | What are the circumstances surrounding Ellicott's appearance here? How long did he play? How many shots did he face (and how many goals)? Why did Brodeur leave (and did he return)? Was he credited with allowing Calgary's empty-net goal? | The HSP has Brodeur playing one minute, allowing one goal on one shot, and I have reprinted this data here. It does not mention whether or not Brodeur returned to the game, and I have assumed that he did not. Under my current hypothesis, Ellicott finished the game and therefore was the goaltender allowing the empty net goal, therefore my custom is to remove it (and one estimated minute of icetime) in his game log statistics.
8283 | 1/15/1983 | NJD | HFD | Glenn Resch | Lindsay Middlebrook | x | x | x | What are the circumstances surrounding Middlebrook's appearance here? How long did he play? How many shots did he face (and how many goals)? Why did Resch leave (and did he return)? | The HSP has Middlebrook playing three minutes, allowing zero goals on two shots, and I have reprinted this data here. It does not mention whether or not Laskoski returned to the game, and I have assumed that he did not. Under my current hypothesis, Laskoski finished the game and therefore was the goaltender allowing the empty net goal, therefore my custom is to remove it (and one estimated minute of icetime) in his game log statistics.
8283 | 1/16/1983 | LOS | NJD | Doug Keans | Gary Laskoski | x | x | x | What are the circumstances surrounding Laskoski's appearance here? How long did he play? How many shots did he face (and how many goals)? Why did Keans leave (and did he return)? Was he credited with allowing New Jersey's empty-net goal? | The HSP has Laskoski playing one minute, allowing one goal on two shots, and I have reprinted this data here. It does not mention whether or not Keans returned to the game, and I have assumed that he did not. Under my current hypothesis, Laskoski finished the game and therefore was the goaltender allowing the empty net goal, therefore my custom is to remove it (and one estimated minute of icetime) in his game log statistics.

How many shots did he face (and did he allow any goals)? Why did Cloutier leave (and did he return)? | The HSP has Sauve playing one minute, allowing zero goals on two shots, and I have reprinted this data here.
8283 | 3/3/1983 | NYS | WAS | Eddie Mio | Glen Hanlon | x | x | x | What are the circumstances surrounding Hankin's appearance here? How long did he play? How many shots did he face (and did he allow any goals)? Why did Mio leave? | The HSP has Mio playing the first five minutes, allowing zero goals on one shot, and I have reprinted this data here. It does not mention whether or not Hanlon returned to the game, and I have assumed that he did not. Under my current hypothesis, Hanlon finished the game and therefore was the goaltender allowing the empty net goal, therefore my custom is to remove it (and one estimated minute of icetime) in his game log statistics.
8283 | 3/6/1983 | NYS | LOS | Glen Hanlon | Steve Baker | x | x | x | What are the circumstances surrounding Baker’s appearance here? How long did he play? How many shots did he face (and how many goals)? Why did Hanlon leave (and did he return)? It does not mention whether or not Hanlon returned to the game, and I have assumed that he did not. Under my current hypothesis, Hanlon finished the game and therefore was the goaltender allowing the empty net goal, therefore my custom is to remove it (and one estimated minute of icetime) in his game log statistics.
8283 | 3/29/1983 | LOS | CGY | Gary Laskoski | Markus Mattsson | x | x | x | What are the circumstances surrounding Mattsson's appearance here (if he did play)? How long did he play? How many shots did he face (and how many goals)? Why did Laskoski leave (and did he return)? | I chose to not give Mattsson credit for a game played.

We also know that Fuhr stopped all four shots faced. When did this happen in the game (and why)? How long did Fuhr play precisely? Did Moog return? | I have Fuhr playing the final eleven minutes, stopping all four shots faced.
8384 | 10/15/1983 | NYS | STL | Glen Hanlon | Steve Weeks | x | x | x | Did Weeks play in this game, and if so, when and why? Did he face any shots (or allow any goals)?
